Your friend,

There was a man named Alex. One particular day Alex was very excited. This was the day for his brand new car to be delivered. Alex had never owned a car before, but he knew that owning a car would help him in many ways. He had worked hard and saved his money for several years, just so he could buy the new car.

The moment finally arrived. The delivery man from the car dealership pulled into the driveway with Alex's brand new shiny car. Alex was so excited! The delivery man asked, "Would you like me to go over some of the car's features with you?" Alex replied, "No, that's okay. I'm sure I can figure it out by myself. Thanks anyway." The delivery man said, "Okay, but if you do find that you need help, the owner's manual is in the glove compartment." The delivery man handed Alex the keys, wished him well and left.

Alex excitedly ran to the car and pulled on the door, but it wouldn't open. He thought to himself, "That's odd, the doors on the car at the dealership opened with no problem." Alex walked around the car looking into the windows thinking how soft the seats looked. At that time Alex's friend Mark came over. "Nice car Alex," said Mark. "But why are you walking around the outside looking in?" Alex replied, "I just got this car and the doors are stuck." Mark laughed and said, "Stuck? Did you try unlocking the doors first?" Alex replied, "Well no, not yet, I was just getting ready to."

Alex put one of the keys into the door lock, but it wouldn't open the door no matter how hard Alex tried to turn it. Mark said, "You better be careful or you'll break that key off in the lock. That key is to the car's trunk. Try the other key." Alex quickly replied, "I was just getting ready to try that." Alex finally unlocked the car doors and sat behind the wheel. He breathed in deeply and said, "Don't you just love that new car smell?"

Mark said, "Yes, it is a great smell. It's a hot day today. Let's see how the air conditioner works." After several attempts and some guidance from Mark, Alex finally got the air conditioner turned on. "Oh great! The air conditioner blows very little cold air!" Alex complained. Mark smiled and calmly said, "Alex, you push these buttons to change the temperature and turn that knob to adjust the level of air flow. Haven't you read the owner's manual yet? That's the first thing I did when I bought my new car." Alex replied, "No not yet. I've been too busy, but I'll get around to it sometime soon. Right now I want to take it out for a little drive!"

With that, Alex backed out of the driveway. Much to Alex's surprise the car kept going backwards. He turned the wheel and pushed some buttons but the car kept going backwards. With great horror Mark watched as Alex backed his brand new car right into a tree. The car was ruined. Mark ran over to Alex and asked, "Why didn't you stop?" Alex stammered, "I didn't know how..."

Many people go through life without referring to the owner's manual God gave us. This owner manual, the Bible, can help us have a richer, more fulfilled life. It is wise to read the Bible every day and follow the guidelines God has laid out for us. So many people are on the outside trying to find a way in, just like Alex when he was trying to unlock the car doors. People may try different keys or methods to get to Heaven. But Jesus told us:

"I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through Me." John 14:6

Metals

- Metals are strong and are useful for making tools, buildings, bridges and other structures where strength is important.
- Most metals are hard.
- Many metals are sonorous or make a bell-like sound when struck.
- Noble metals like silver, gold and platinum, resist corrosion and oxidation in moist air.
- The word 'metal' comes from the Greek word 'metallon,' which means to mine, excavate or extract from the ground.
- The metals are subdivided into separate groups, such as basic metals, transition metals, alkali metals, alkaline earth metals, rare earth, lanthanides and actinides.
- At room temperature, all of the metals are solids except for mercury, which is a liquid.
- Most common metal found in the Earth's crust is aluminum.
- Many metals are heavy or dense, although some metals, such as lithium, are light enough to float on water!
- Metals are elastic or tend to bend rather than break.
- Alkali metals, such as lithium, sodium, potassium, and cesium, are so reactive they will ignite and even explode if placed in water.

Watermelon

- The first recorded watermelon harvest occurred nearly 5,000 years ago in Egypt.
- It was depicted in Egyptian hieroglyphics on walls of their ancient buildings.
- Watermelons were often placed in the burial tombs of kings.
- Watermelon is 92% water.
- Watermelon's official name is Citrullus Lanatus of the botanical family Cucurbitaceae. It is cousins to cucumbers, pumpkins and squash.
- By weight, watermelon is the most-consumed melon in the U.S., followed by cantaloupe and honeydew.
- Early explorers used watermelons as canteens.
- There are some that are yellow on the inside

The Bible is a holy book. It tells us about Jesus, our Creator. It tells us about our future and about God's salvation and His love for each of us. The Bible has power because it's God's Holy Word. The Bible is a collection of many books written over the span of about 1500 years. The Bible has about 40 different authors. They lived in different times of history, different places, they came from different cultures and different professions, yet their writings were always in harmony with the message God had given them to write.

ORIGINAL MEANING

In the original language of the New Testament, Koine Greek, the word βιβλίον (biblion) means a scroll and does not mean a Bible.

The word biblion was used because the first books of ancient times were written in rolls of parchment (paper).

"the Bible, and the Bible alone, is to be our creed, the sole bond of union; all who bow to this Holy Word will be in harmony. Our own views and ideas must not control our efforts. Man is fallible, but God's Word is infallible."
